Fair through Saturday in the valley but with patchy low clouds late tonight and Saturday morning. A little warmer today and cooler Saturday. Lows in the 50s. Highs today in the 80s and Saturday in the mid 70s to mid 80s. Westerly winds 10 to 20 mph afternoons and evenings.

Injunction void, races cancelled

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — Attorneys for the fair board put their money on a long shot from Missouri and lost yesterday.

Superior court judge George W. Phillips, Jr., ruled a 1914 Missouri Supreme Court decision does not save improperly served restraining orders issued last week on striking union officials.

The judge's order to void the court injunction and dissolve the temporary restraining order leaves the remainder of the 12-day race meet open to as many pickets as the union can muster.

The judge let stand an injunction he ruled validly served against 10 individual, unnamed Does. Only those 10 of the 2,500 county employes on strike for the past month are barred from picketing.

Fair board secretary - manager Lee Hall, who already had cancelled today's 1 p.m. card, said: "Future meets will be taken on a day-by-day basis."

Racing will not be scheduled "unless we have agreements in writing from the other unions involved that they will come to work," he said.

Hall will make daily 1 p.m. announcements on the fate of the following day's races. Monday's card will be decided and publicized tomorrow.

Pari-mutuel Guild No. 280 has refused to sign the agreement Hall said. Other unions -- teamsters, janitors and a non-striking Service Employes International Union local — have not answered his request.

(A clerk at the fair's administration building said the pari-mutuel clerks were behind the windows yesterday when their union steward ordered them off the job. The report has not been confirmed.)

"This board is prepared to lose whatever money it's going to lose to have racing," said Hall, denying there is some point-of-no-return after which the balance of races will be scrubbed.

Horsemen already have lost considerable amounts of money this season, he said, and face another setback if Sonoma County employes strike and block the scheduled Santa Rosa meet.

At last report, the north bay employes had voted not to strike.

Local races cannot be postponed until after the strike because state law requires them to be held concurrently with the fair, according to Hall.

Obviously disenchanted with Judge Phillips' decision, Hall said: "As a private citizen, I question the judge's verbage, but again, I'm not a legal man.

"The purpose of the order is to give the person served time to prepare," said Judge Phillips.

Hall said the fair board does not plan to seek another restraining order and injunction. He offered a terse "No comment" to the possibility of future civil suits.

Lemonade weather

The lemonade stand business on West Angela Street in Pleasanton figures to boom this weekend with continued balmy summer weather and thousands of weekend visitors in town for the Fair and Fourth of July festivities at Century House. Patty Wilbur holds out 10 cents for a cooling cup of lemonade as Kelly Jones and Kathy Wilder serve. The enterprising young ladies report sales "fair to middling" thus far this week. (Times photo by Al Fischer)

Bells to toll America's 200th birthday

Throughout the valley and across the nation, bells will ring and sirens will sound at 11 a.m. Pacific Time on Sunday, July 4, exactly 200 years after the Declaration of Independence was signed in Philadelphia in 1776.

A red, white and blue birthday celebration is planned, as America enters its third century.

Valley residents are invited to take part in a host of activities this Bicentennial weekend.

Throughout the weekend the Alameda County Fair will be in progress at the fairgrounds in Pleasanton.

In Dublin, a three-day 18th Century Faire is planned. Valleyites are invited to attend the event at Shannon Park Community Center.

Games and entertainment will be provided. Uncle Sam will wander around the faire selling balloons. A Town Crier will toll the hours. Arts and crafts exhibits will be on display, and refreshments will be sold.

People are encouraged to wear costumes of the period. Admission is free.

A fireworks display will be set off at Robertson Park in Livermore about 9:20 p.m. There will be no admittance to the park, but people may view the display from the parking lot.

Pleasanton's big celebration will take place July 4 at the Century House on Santa Rita Road. Festivities begin at 1:30 p.m. with a band concert.

A scroll will be passed around for people to sign their names. The scroll will be included in the time capsule to be buried for opening on the Tricentennial in 2076.

With fire conditions the worst in half a century, bicentennial celebrants are urged to exercise caution when using camping, using fireworks, or engaging in other fire-related activities.

Officials at East Bay Regional Parks District warn that the fire danger is so severe that some parks may be subject to closure, including Del Valle Regional Park in Livermore. Those who plan to use the parks should call 531-1336 for late information on park openings.

Officials also expect record use of swimming facilities, and note that in the interest of public safety, use of swim facilities such as Shadow Cliffs may be limited once "safety maximum" levels have been reached.

The California State Automobile Association has issued some advice for those who plan to be on the road over the weekend. Drive defensively and keep alert. Maintain speed limits. Drive only when sober. Use seat belts.

The CSAA also advises that travellers should make reservations in advance, or risk being disappointed. North coast and northern inland State and National Parks are almost completely sold out for the Independence Day weekend.

Residents seek to end 'speedway'

PLEASANTON — A speeding car which wiped out an exterior decorative wall of a Muirwood Drive home two weeks ago was the last straw for neighborhood residents.

Tired of seeing Muirwood Drive used for what they call a "speedway," 486 residents have petitioned the city council to install stop signs at three locations and drop the speed limit at Muirwood Park. The city council heard the request Monday and agreed to consider it at its meeting July 12.

One resident told council members that his six - year - old child nearly was hit by a motorist on the street. Another accident happened Wednesday night, a collision of two vehicles in which no one was hurt at the corner of Muirwood and Sandalwood drives.

The accident which dramatically demonstrated to the neighborhood the alleged need for more vehicle control occurred two weeks ago.

Three young women were injured when their car allegedly traveled over 50 miles per hour, left Muirwood Drive on the downhill before Muirwood Park, skidded 30 feet past the curb, and cracked a decorative wall on a residence next to the park.

The neighbors are asking for a three way stop at Muirwood and Springdale drives, another three way stop at Muirwood and Highland Oaks drives, and a stop sign at Hillview Court and Muirwood Drive which would halt traffic headed in a southerly direction. The residents also want a 15 mile per hour speed limit on Muirwood Drive along the length of the park. This is an area where motorists tend to go faster because there are no intersections, say neighbors.

The residents borrowed radar equipment from the city and clocked cars on Muirwood Drive. They found an average of 38 miles per hour in a 25 mile per hour zone. Some were below the limit, as low as 20 miles per hour, and one motorist was doing 50 miles per hour.

Some of the residents also are concerned about the possibility of a vehicular overpass being constructed at Las Positas Boulevard. One resident told The Times she feared it would increase traffic on Muirwood Drive, because the street is a shortcut to the future Stoneridge Regional Center.

Don Savery, a proponent of the Las Positas overpass, said that he doubted people living east of the freeway, except perhaps some in Val Vista, would bother taking that route to the regional center. If the Stoneridge Drive overpass is installed — and that's the only one which appears to be on the horizon because its financing is assured — people are more likely to travel up Hopyard Road and over Stoneridge Drive to the center, said Savery.

Murray's roll downslide to last next three years

DUBLIN— Though one-hundred new homes are expected to be ready by the 1976-77 school year and another 421 within two years, the Murray School District will still likely lose an average 100 in enrollment each of the next three years.

Members of the Murray Citizens Advisory Committee also learned Wednesday night the parent surveys would be mailed next week to 3,670 homes. The survey asks parents to check one of two alternatives: For the district to maintain the status quo in respect to housing of seventh-eighth grade students, or convert another school in the district to strictly seventheighth grade use.

Identical survey forms were sent out to district teachers, via Applied Technology, and some have already been returned. Initial returns show a 50-50 split between the two alternatives, according to an informal check made by Ann Feathers of the research firm.

Results of the survey forms sent to teachers will be reviewed at a July 14 meeting of the CAC at Dublin Elementary School.

Fair exhibitors decry poor attendance

Fred Trevalio has worked exhibit booths at the Alameda County Fair in Pleasanton for 24 years and has never seen such a lack of "traffic" as he and his cohorts have experienced thus far this week.

The lack of crowds and the reasons for same will be discussed at a meeting of exhibitors and secretary - manager Lee Hall this morning at 9.

At a meeting attended by some 70 exhibitors Wednesday night in the Young California Building, prospective courses of action were discussed, including pooling of funds to hire an attorney and towards the end of suing those unions some exhibitors feel may be the cause of their problems.

However, the prevailing mood Wednesday was toward informing the public of exhibitor solidarity with the Fair Association position of removing the pickets and getting the races underway.

"We want the public to know we're 100 per cent behind the Fair," Trevalio opined. "But, let's face it, racing is one of the biggest attractions. We also want the public to know that a few people are holding up the Fair — this is an illegal strike."

Trevalio, who has the Sandak Shoes, astroturf and Fantasy in Glass booths, is not neutral by any means in his feelings towards county pickets.

"They've got to get tough with these people and enforce the law," Trevalio fumed. "The county oughta' fire the whole dam bunch of them and get replacements."

Trevalio was with the Hickory Farms exhibit for 14 years and, before that, with Encyclopedia Americana. He has been in business 33 years and a yearly exhibitor in Pleasanton the last 24.

Three walk-through checks of the Exhibition Building at different times over the past three days substantially support Trevalio's claim that revenues are way down. He made a hasty estimate Thursday that revenues were down as much as 70 percent.

Most exhibitors are hopeful that traffic will pickup over the weekend.

With the racing program for today already cancelled and a decision on Saturday's to be made today at 1 p.m., exhibitors as well as carnival and concession people are eying the traditionally large Fourth of July weekend crowds. In recent years (when racing was in progress), the total attendance for a single day has eclipsed 50,000 on a couple of occasions.

Today is Livermore Day at the Fair with a special Livermore Community Hour scheduled in the Court of 4 Seasons at 2 p.m. Tonight marks the debut of Flash Cadillac and the Continental Kids in the Amphitheatre. Shows are scheduled for 7 and 9 p.m.

Attendance Thursday was again barely half of the corresponding day last year. To date, attendance has been about 55 per cent of what it was in '75.

Saturday is California Day at the Fair.

Inmate stabbed at Santa Rita Jail

PLEASANTON — A 24-year-old inmate at the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center is listed in stable condition with severalslash wounds after being attacked by a fellow prisoner in Greystone, the maximum security section yesterday morning.

A jail spokesman said Reginald Bernard Butler was attacked by another inmate about 10:40 a.m. Thursday while 25 other inmates looked on. The attack occurred in a dayroom, a large room with showers and recreational equipment.

Butler sustained several slash wounds about his body, the spokesman said. He is reported in stable condition in Fairmont Hospital in San Leandro.

A man suspected of the attack has been isolated and is being questioned by jail officials.

In April, 27-year-old Michael McDaniel was stabbed and bludgeoned in a shower area of the jail's medium security section. His death was the first reported murder inside the walls of the county jail. Officials would not speculate on a connection between the two attacks.

Rocco pleads guilty to drug selling charges

LIVERMORE — Dr. Donald Rocco, prominent dentist and former candidate for city council, has changed his plea to guilty on charges he attempted to sell two ounces of high-grade cocaine to undercover police officers in Los Angeles Jan. 12.

Rocco had previously pleaded innocent to the charges and was free on $10,000 bail while awaiting a hearing. Sentencing has been set for Sept. 14.

A preliminary hearing will be held July 14 on separate charges of alleged insurance fraud and that Rocco filed a false burglary report on Jan. 15, three days after the alleged drug sale, in which he listed equipment and drugs valued at nearly $10,000 stolen. Drugs listed as stolen included cocaine, serial numbers of which matched those he allegedly tried to sell to police, it was reported.

Rocco ran unsuccessfully for the city council in 1972 and again in 1974, and was an active member of the Livermore Lions Club.

Burglars steal farmer's hay in two instances

PLEASANTON — Burglars apparently using a truck took 24 bales of hay from a field at Hopyard and Hansen in two attempts in three days, police reported yesterday.

Leonard Silva told police that 10 bales of red oat hay were taken Tuesday, and that 14 bales were taken again early Thursday. Police could find no clues in the theft at the scene.

The bales are valued at $5 each, with the total loss listed as $120.

Burglars cause damage to restaurant sign

PLEASANTON — Burglars caused $200 damage when they unsuccessfully attempted to pry a neon sign from the newly - completed La Rochelle restaurant on St. Mary's Street early Tuesday.

The sign was not removed, but damage to the cocktail glass design sign and wiring was listed at $200. Police have no suspects in the case. —by Bill Cauble

Decision time for pipeline proponents

With time running out, the Livermore - Amador Valley Water Management Agency must make a fundamental decision: whether to put funding of the effluent disposal pipeline to the valley voters on the November ballot and risk defeat or whether to issue bonds on the board's authority subject to later voter referendum.

If the issue is to appear on the November ballot, a formal request to that effect must be sent to the Alameda County Board of Supervisors by Aug. 20.

LAVWMA, a joint powers agency made up of representatives from Livermore, Pleasanton and Valley Community Services District, is under State mandate to cease discharging its treated effluent down the Alameda Creek.

The LAVWMA project proposes to end that practice by shipping the valley's treated effluent through a pipeline over the hill for eventual discharge into the San Francisco Bay.

State and Federal agencies will pay 75 per cent of the costs, but the local share still may run as high as $7 million.

There are two options to finance the share. The board could submit a revenue bond issue to all valley voters in the LAVWMA jurisdiction in the November general election. Or, the LAVWMA Board of Directors could issue the bonds on the grounds that the project is mandated by the state, with the bonds subject to later voter referendum.

Ron Hyde of VCSD said in deciding between the two options LAVWMA will be making "the toughest decision this board will have to face."

LAVWMA directors realize that in view of the economic situation, voters may very well turn down the bonds regardless of the State mandate to clean up the discharge.

But under the terms of their original joint powers agreement (JPA), LAVWMA is prohibited from committing the valley to any project greater than 13 million gallons of effluent per day and costing more than $1.5 million.

Presently the LAVWMA project is planned to accommodate 19.72 MGD at a local cost of perhaps $7 million, exceeding the conditions of the JPA.

So LAVWMA is now considering amending the JPA to permit construction of the project without voter approval. The concurrence of the Livermore and Pleasanton City Councils and the VCSD Board of Directors is required to amend the JPA.

If LAVWMA issues the bonds without voter approval, directors will risk incurring the dissatisfaction of valley voters who have been excluded from the decision - making process.

Livermore delegate Helen Tirsell said she feared the voters would not understand so complicated an issue, and indicated the survival of the project might hinge on action taken by the LAVWMA board.

Hyde said, "I'm not so sure that after all the time and money we've spent on this project that I'm willing to take the chance (the voters will turn down the bonds)."

Hyde noted that as elected officials all board members routinely make decisions involving large sums of money. And with regard to the LAVWMA financing Hyde said, "I think we ought to take that responsibility."

Pleasanton schools' Budgets approved

The Pleasanton Joint School District board acted to adopt a $6.6 million tentative budget following by one day the Amador Valley Joint School board's adoption of an $8.9 million tentative budget.

In other action, the Amador board approved various student teacher agreements, and categorical aid programs.

The Amador district, on Tuesday, approved a resolution awarding bids on athletic and physical education equipment for boys and girls at Amador, Dublin and Foothill.

Also approved were resolutions notifying contractors of lighting and bleacher projects for Foothill High School.

The Amador budget reflects a one-time only "windfall" of about $90,000 from the State Teachers Retirement System (STRS) to bulk a reserve that is figured at $130,000.

Incremental movement on the salary schedules for certificated and classified employees amounts to 4-and-a-fraction per cent increase over the average for last year.

Gas service restored to Kottonger units

PLEASANTON — All gas service was restored to Kottinger Place senior citizen housing Sunday afternoon, after PG&E crews concluded a week of installing all - new gas lines.

The utility company had turned off the gas a week earlier at the request of of the city fire department, which felt that approximately 50 underground gas leaks posed a danger.

The old pipes leaked because they were metal, but PG&E was able to install new plastic lines which should assure that the breaks won't happen again.

Housing Authority Executive Director Michael Parsons said that he has not received a specific price yet for the installation, but added it will be well under the $48,000 which had been budgeted for replacement of the old pipes.

Parsons said that PG&E "did an excellent job and provided fast and efficient installation of the new lines".

Water safety course set in Livermore

LIVERMORE — A basic water safety and rescue course will be offered at Livermore Memorial Pool from July 13 to 27 on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 8 to 10 p.m., by the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District.

Individuals over 11 years of age are eligible and those who pass the course will receive an American National Red Cross Basic Rescue certificate.

Registration may be made at the pool on weekdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on weekends from 1 to 5 p.m. There is a $5 pool fee.

Valley is tinder dry

Illegal fireworks pose fire danger

First of all, let's set the record straight — fireworks of any kind are not permitted in Livermore, Pleasanton and San Ramon. Safe and sane fireworks — those that do not move or explode — are legal for purchase and use in Dublin and Sunol, as well as Fremont, Union City, Newark and Hayward.

However, local fire departments recognize that fireworks as well as firecrackers are being used illegally, and wish to point out the most severe hazards present.

Devices such as firecrackers, sparklers, snakes, M-80's, salutes and ashcans are those most frequently involved in serious injuries, or cause fires that lead to substantial property loss.

The Pleasanton Fire Department says that due to the Bicentennial, "this fourth of July celebration may just be the most severe in history," pointing to two main contributing factors:

- This has been the dryest year in a long time. Vegetation, dry grass and brush around the valley and surrounding hills are tinder dry. Typical roofs are wooden shingled, posing a potential threat when coupled with strong, dry summer winds.
- Importers of fireworks have increased their stocks greatly this year, supplies of illegal fireworks are also greater, "and there is no question that they will be purchased and used."

Fire prevention officials recommend that valley residents:

- Do not purchase, possess or use dangerous, illegal fireworks which includes firecrackers, salutes, and other exploding devices; sky rockets and rockets that rise into the air during discharge; Roman candles and similar devices that discharge balls of fire; sparklers more than 10 inchs long or 1/4-inch in diameter; torpedos, or fireworks kits.

Possession or use of the above listed items may result in citations being issued. Those caught selling or otherwise distributing dangerous fireworks will be cited, fined up to $500, and their stock confiscated.

- If fireworks must be used, use them in areas where permissble and where safe — not near dry brush, structures or other flammables. Use only safe and sane fireworks — those with the State Fire Marshal's seal stamped on each package. And apply a good measure of common sense.

If you see a fire, call the fire department immediately. In this dry season, small fires will spread rapidly. Emergency fire department numbers are listed below:

Pleasanton — 846-4413
Livermore — 447-5555
Dublin — 881-8181
San Ramon — 837-1313
Sunol — 862-2196

Granada slates start of new student union

LIVERMORE — Groundbreaking for Granada High's long - awaited student union building will take place Wednesday morning.

The 10 a.m. ceremonies will take place, not at the construction site but in the GHS multi - purpose room, which has served as cafeteria, gymnasium and theatre in the absence of a student union.

Guests invited to the ceremony include Clarence Hoenig, John Sarboraria and David Smith, chairmen of the 1975 committee that passed a building measure which will pay for the new building. Also expected to attend are school board members; GHS student body president Joe Wujek; and officers of the lease purchase non - profit corporation in charge of the building program — president Anders Lundberg and secretary Bob Olson.

The student union is only one of a raft of construction projects approved by voters last year. The $10 million project also includes new classrooms at Livermore and Granada High, a warehouse and expansion of the administration building, and a transportation facility.

Also under construction are landscaping at Almond Avenue School and Granada High; improvement of support facilities at Fifth Street, Jackson Avenue, Marylin Avenue and Portola Schools; tennis backstops at Granada and Livermore High; soundproofing in the Livermore High auditorium and band room; air conditioning of libraries.

'One nation under God'

Super Sunday

PLEASANTON— Valley Community Church invites you to join them for a Super Sunday at the 10 a.m. worship service in the multi-purpose room of the Amador Valley High School on Santa Rita Road. The Chorus will be presenting the musical of John Peterson "I Love America."

There will be no Sunday School or Bible classes Sunday so that all may fellowship with the Lord as one body. Pastor Leron Heath will share a special message for the birthday celebration, "Christ and America taken from the Gospel of John.

Church members who wish may participate in the wedding reception for Tom McCullough and Kathy Seibert which will take place at 2:30 at the church property.

All church members are invited and urged to attend the old-fashioned Fourth of July family picnic for America's 200th birthday also planned at the church property Games will begin at 4 p.m. with the family picnic to follow at 6 p.m. Members are to bring their own food, drinks and blanket — the grill will be hot. Festivities will continue until 9 p.m.

St. Clare

PLEASANTON— A bicentennial service taken from an old prayer book which was in use in 1776 will be celebrated by St. Clare's Episcopal Church this Sunday. The entire service will be as it was in the colonial era, including a fire and brimstone sermon by the Rev. William A. Smith.

An added highlight to the service will be the dedication of an American flag in a memorial to the veterans, both men and women, who gave their lives for our nation.

Pastor Milton C. Johnson of Livermore's Holy Cross Lutheran Church has his "klokkers" all ready to insure as orderly a fourth of July service as our puritan forefathers had.

Holy Cross repeats colonial services

LIVERMORE— Families attending worship services this Fourth of July at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, 1020 Mocho St., will be asked to dress in colonial fashion and to strictly follow the traditional customs held 200 years ago by our nation's forefathers.

Male and female worshippers will be seated separately for the 9 a.m. service. Ushers will be using "klocckers" — a "gentle" persuader used in days past on inattentive listeners or lax participators.

This educational and inspiring worship experience, translated from an original German liturgy by Alan J. Rider, pastor intern, will have Pastor Milton C. Johnson serving as acolyte, lector, liturgist and preacher — again following the colonial day's customs. His Communion meditation will be on the theme, "Our Nation Under God."

Music from colonial days or earlier will be a part of the service. Mrs. Jeannine Woolery will direct the Senior Choir singing "Happy In the Lord" by American composer John Cennick and "The Creed" as arranged by Martin Luther.

An old-fashioned family picnic will be held in the church yard at 5 p.m., Sunday, to conclude the day's celebration. Each family will bring its own food and table service. Beverages and watermelon will be served by the congregation. It will be a time of good fellowship, fun and games.

Sacred Holiday

The Declaration of Independence comes down to us 200 years later in all its pristine purity — untouched by the modern flagrant denials of the existence of God.

God is mentioned no less than five times in this document, which is perhaps the most inspired work written by man other than the Bible. God is mentioned as Creator, Supreme Judge, Leader, Father and Protector.

The Declaration of Independence, is then, essentially a religious document. One, like the Bible, to be examined often, read carefully, and absorbed thoughtfully.

"All men are created equal," it says, meaning "equal" in the eyes of God — not that we're all the same, as the sexists would have us believe, or automatically elegible for the same exact benefits, as the communists proclaim; but equal to the "Rights of Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

Its simple beauty still stirs the hearts of men everywhere. It proclaims the one day that all Americans hold as a "holyday" as well as a "holiday" to celebrate our "One Nation under God."

— By Reina Whitney

'Voice of Prophecy' broadcasts repeated

LIVERMORE— "There IS an answer to America's ills on her 200th birthday," says the Rev. H.M.S. Richards, Jr. of the Seventh - day Adventist Church. "It's one that cannot be enforced, but can be accepted only on an individual basis," he adds, "the answer is the same as it was at Sinai — two tablets taken internally ... God's Law in man's heart."

Richards, Jr. is the son of H.M.S. Richards, Sr., founder of the Voice of Prophecy radio broadcasts first heard in 1941. The same Voice of Prophecy will again be heard the week of July 4-9 over Station KNBR at 11:30 p.m. and again at 9:30 Sunday morning, when a series of six programs dealing with the past, present and future of religious freedom in the U.S. will be presented.

On the subject of religious freedom in America, Richards, Jr., sees as the real threat the danger that well-meaning Christians will weaken the 200-year-old wall of separation between church and state by seeking government support for religious ideas.

"Religious liberty includes conceding to another person the right to practice a religion you don't agree with," says Richards. "We must not merely seek religious liberty ourselves, but we must defend the right of others to hold beliefs we may personally believe to be wrong."

The talks by H.M.S. Richards, Jr. are entitled "The Numb Generation," "What If You Could Make America Over?" "No News Is Good News," "Wall of Separation or Gate of Cooperation," and "The Future of the Wall."

Carol Wilson of the Evangelical Free Church of Pleasanton will be one of the featured soloists at the Independence Day Ecumenical Service. She plans to give a rendition of "Exodus/ America."

Berean Baptist

LIVERMORE— Pastor Bill Ferry's 4th of July message will be "The Declaration of Spiritual Independence" (John 8:31-36) at the Berean Baptist Church, 2200 Bess Ave.

Sunday School classes for all ages begin at 9:45 a.m. with services following at 11.

The Sunday evening service at 6 will consider the message, "A Pure and Undefiled Religion" (James 1:26-27).

The Wednesday prayer meeting and bible study is at 7:30. Nursery care is provided for all services at Berean.

Seven in ecumenical service

PLEASANTON— Under the sponsorship of The Pleasanton Bicentennial Commission, a Fourth of July Ecumenical Community Worship Service will be held at the Amador Valley High School auditorium from 10 to 11 a.m.

Seven local churches will be participating under the coordinating congregation of the United Presbyterian Community Church, to be represented by the Rev. Robert Vogt speaking on the theme for the worship service — "Freedom to Live, Freedom to Worship."

Also relating thoughts about "Our Heritage from the Past," "Our Present Challenge," and "Our Hopes for the Future," will be the Rev. Travis Campbell of Lynnwood Methodist Church, the Rev. William Smith of St Clare's Episcopal Church, the Rev. G.T. McKean of the Pentecostal Church of God, the Rev. Ronald A. Bennett of the First Assembly of God and Deacon Patrick Ritter of St. Augustine's Catholic Church.

The Evangelical Free Church will be represented by solist Carol Wilson All the music is being coordinated by Carolyn Helgeson of the Presbyterian Church and will include a 21 piece Ecumenical Brass Ensemble being directed by Frank Jensen of St Augustine's.

The Pruett Family, members of Presbyterian, will present vocal music with guitar accompaniment and the Rev. McKean will also be a soloist.

St. Raymond

DUBLIN— A special bi centennial children's litur gy will be held July 4 at the 9 a.m. Mass. All young peo ple are invited to join in the entrance procession dressed either in thei Scouting, Camp Fire uni forms, etc., or in any bicen tennial costume. All who would like to participate are to be at the church by 8:45 a.m.

And the rockets firey glare

What spoil - sport would want to squelch a little Fourth of July fireworks fun, particularly in this our 200th year?

Well, you might talk to that San Ramon family whose home was gutted earlier in the week, apparently the result of a misguided rocket.

Or you might check with the startled residents of that Foothill Road dwelling, who caught the "fireworks' flame" atop their home just in time to prevent another disaster.

Then there are the children. Those who still carry the damaged eyesight and burned limbs that resulted from the misplay of fireworks, in summers past.

Or you might talk to the police, to the doctors and the hospital authorities who tell us — year after year — of the "tragic consequences" that befall a few, for the firecracker fun afforded many. In this case, we question the fairness of that equation.

Most cities ban the sale of fireworks. The counties do not, guided we suppose by the argument that "State of California pre - empts such legislation." And so the children, and their misguided parents, can shop the unincorporated villages or stop by the rural roadside and buy all the rockets they want, to send soaring into the sky ... and onto structures, dry weeds, and other Valley tinderboxes.

It seems like an awful price, just for a little innocent fun.

It seems there ought to be a better way to mark our nation's birthday, without burning down somebody's house, or sending some child to the hospital.

Costly ballots

Residents of Contra Costa County are shook to leart they shelled out $25,000 for 15,000 Spanish language ballots, only 108 of which were actually used in that June election.

Alameda County's taxpayers might shake a little more at the $300,000 spent to convert ALL sample ballots to the new bilingual kick. We don't know how many voters actually made use of the Spanish language portion of that information, but if Contra Costa's percentage is applied, then it looks like Alameda spent $300,000 to accomplish $2100 worth of results.

All of which arises from yet another great Senator John Tunney was one of the authors of that bit of legislative legerdemain, part of the great federal crusade to "provide full voting rights to all minorities." What they really provided was an election Frankenstein, adding millions of dollars to election costs, for minuscule results.

Apart from the ridiculous waste of public funds, there is the larger question of just how far Americans should go in yielding to those few who persist in living within small enclaves where Arabic, Hungarian or Chinese might still be in popular use.

We recall the experience of Los Angeles County where less than one percent of the voters took advantage of the Spanish - language ballot. And for that service Los Angeles taxpayers spent in excess of one million dollars!

Somebody had best review the 1975 Federal Voting Rights Act, and start applying economic sense to this whole "civil rights" thrust. In our 200th year of advance, it seems little enough to ask that two percent of the populace learn the language in use by 98 percent.

FOCUS/County school board

Down, but not out

We can only hope that John Hagerty's loss of his district representation on the Alameda County Board of Education will not still his interest in county or local educational affairs.

Hagerty's 12-year tenure on the county board came to an end Wednesday with the swearing in of Ericka Huggins, who will represent a newly-constituted district in Oakland.

That leaves the valley with one representative on the county board — but a very able and experienced one in Virginia Birdsall of Livermore.

Mrs. Birdsall's area of representation will now include all of the valley, Castro Valley and about 1,000 residents of Oakland.

The mandate for reapportionment arose a couple of years ago and was shepherded to fulfillment by the County Board of Supervisors.

For years the two valley representatives had spoken for a considerably smaller number of people than those representing the metropolitan complex — Oakland and Berkeley.

It was inevitable, taking the social trends of the past 10 years for granted, that we would someday lose one representative from the board.

Mrs. Huggins will represent a new district that covers a portion of the City of Oakland, generally the eastern portion between E.14th St. and Foothill Boulevard.

She was sworn in during the annual board reorganization meeting Thursday night at Castlewood Country Club.

The reapportionment move assures the more populous northern end of the county of greater representation on a board that for years has had its axis in the southern and southeastern portions.

From solely a population standpoint, the action was long overdue.

Whether this will ultimately hurt the best interests of districts in the valley cannot be determined now.

I would tend to doubt it.

Our valley districts are greatly self-sufficient with the personnel and materials and expertise to take care of practically all their needs.

I also believe John Hagerty will soon tire of sitting home in the evenings and be back at the educational battlements before long.

In receiving a plaque for his 12 years of service last night, I'm sure John got the impression that it didn't mean he could now rest on his laurels.

See you at one of the board or advisory meetings some time soon, John.

Letters to the Times

200th Year

Editor, The Times:

On this the two hundreth birthday of our nation, a nation that has achieved for the many the highest standard of living combined with the highest level of individual freedom the world has ever known, it is well what we remember with gladness, admiration and gratitude;

The Devine Providence that created this fertile, rich and varied land with its beneficient climates that we call America the Beautiful,

The brave, hardy and adventurous pioneers, settlers and citizen - soldiers who won and defended it,

The elequent, practical and far-sighted statesmen who forged into our founding documents the spirit of individual freedom and the statutory safeguards to preserve it,

The visionaries who from little more than dreams built a multitude of industries which simultaneously provided wage-earning opportunities, goods, services and tax monies to build and support our governmental structures, and

The heroes who through whatever means gave us cause to face the future with faith, hope and inspiration.

And while we with thanksgiving and pride recall these things it is well that we also ask ourselves; for what shall we, the fortunate citizens and custodians of this favored nation on its two hundreth birthday, for what shall we be remembered by future generations? Shall we be remembered as the generation:

Who through our refusal to help defend the freedom of others lost our own?

Who through making such a fetish of leadership that no one wanted to follow and through showing such disrespect for our leaders that no one wanted to lead thereby destroyed our ability to act in concert?

Who in our envy of the power, prestige and profits of private enterprise withdrew those incentives for this goose to continue laying golden eggs?

Who in our environmental righteousness not only sought to punish man for the sin of developing technology but also sought to deny him further enjoyment of its fruits, fruits without which he could not longer hope to survive in his present numbers?

Who became so concerned with administering to the slow, the lazy and the disadvantaged that we ceased to appreciate and encourage the quick, the energetic and the gifted on whose guidance, help and protection our advance to this point had depended? and

Who in our zeal to proclaim the right of dissent denied freedom of expression to those defending the object of the dissent?

Jim's mom

Motherhood has been taking a rap in the sports pages for years. It suffered another punch in the nose Tuesday when Jimmy Connors, (who only a mother could love) bombed out of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Following his three-set route at the hands of Roscoe Tanner, Connors' ex-manager blamed Jimmy's mother, Mrs. Gloria Connors, for the defeat.

Well, part of it, anyway.

Bill Riordan says it was Connors' mother, and his girl friend, Marjorie Wallace, who undermined his efforts at Wimbledon.

Just too much female interference, charged Riordan, who says these things openly since parting company with tennis' premiere malcontent.

The fact Riordan is engaging Connors in a lawsuit may have precipitated his analysis of matronly overkill.

In any event, Riordan reasoned that Connors was distracted from the Wimbledon task by all that female companionship. Jimmy had to scurry around lining up tickets for the girls in his life when he should have been concentrating on tennis, the ex-manager claimed.

He says Connors should have sent Marjorie Wallace, a former Miss World, packing. After the stunning upset by Tanner, Connors rebuffed reporters, and rode off into the sunset with Marjorie. Maybe Jimmy suspected defeat and figured that one of the world's beauties would be satisfactory consolation.

As for Gloria Connors, Riordan says she ought to "ease up" on Jimbo a little bit. He's 24, Riordan points out, and being smothered with "momism."

Mrs. Connors is omni-present when her son plays tennis. She has been the prodding force in his rise to fame, fortune and feminine fanciers.

She is not the first mother to be lambasted in the sporting press, however. In fact, she is hardly alone.

Following the 1972 Olympics motherhood all over Italy was blamed for the defeats of her sons.

Italians win precious few medals in the summer games. Sports officials and sports writers in that country blamed it on "momism."

Doting momma mias undermine athletic endeavors, it was charged, by blanketing their boys with affection, Italian style. They ply the little Paisans with starchy foods and gooey pastries. Worse, they fret constantly about health matters.

It gets to the point, writers claimed, that mamma won't let junior go to the swimming hole. He might catch cold, then pneumonia, then "O Dio," who knows what could happen. Better he stays inside and helps with the laundry.

How do you nurture champions from this kind of breeding? You don't, moaned the Italians. If Mark Spitz had grown up in Milan, he'd be a tailor today, instead of a well-tanned swimming legend.

The solution, say sporting sages, is to get potential superstars out of mother's grasp a.s.a.p.

Perhaps that advice can be lifted from the sporting realm and used other places as well. Say in politics.

Think of the last Jimmy Carter picture that appeared in the newspaper. If a female face was anywhere within the frame, it was probably Carter's mother. Her silver hair and Jimmy's glimmering teeth have adorned more front pages than photos of President Ford falling up the stairs.

You wonder if Jimmy (the primary winner, not the Wimbledon loser) goes anywhere without his mom.

Where's his wife? He is married, isn't he? Why don't we see her face in the morning editions.

Perhaps Carter should heed that advice about "momism" or there'll be one whale of a constitutional battle for the position of First Lady.

It could further besmirch the sainted office of motherhood. In this, our Bicentennial Year, we could be left with only baseball and store-bought apple pie as symbols of goodness.

McCarthy

Eugene McCarthy and I go back a long way. We grew up in Minnesota and I attended the college where he taught sociology before he was elected to Congress. In fact, my history professor took a little time out from teaching to manage McCarthy's first bid for the Senate in 1958. So it was with a great deal of pride and anticipation recently that I journeyed to San Rafael to meet McCarthy and reminisce about the old days.

The fund - raiser spaghetti dinner was conducted by McCarthy's northern California Presidential campaign committee. It's a well - kept secret in the media, but McCarthy is running for President again, this time as an Independent. The fund - raiser was a well - kept secret, too, with around 30 or 40 in attendance, including Malvina Reynolds, the Berkeley - based folk singer who entertained.

McCarthy was accessible, but only in a sense. I shook hands with him, started rapping about the old days in Minnesota, and he merely nodded and went on to the next person . Maybe he likes to live in the "now", I don't know. But I sensed a lack of warmth there, even for an intellectual. I suppose it's the reason the Democrats never nominated him for President. McCarthy was almost always right on the issues as far as I was concerned and in many ways he led the liberal wing of the Democratic Party as you might expect from a humanistic college professor type. But it takes a political soul to get elected to high office in this country; high moral character or good brains have little to do with it, as any number of Presidential losers could tell you.

McCarthy, though, is confident he will be elected President this fall. That's what he told the small gathering in a "press conference" which symbolized his Lilliputian effort. The "press conference" was really an interview granted to a freelance writer, and people kept coming into the room to listen in.

"We are on the ballot in seven or eight states now and will be on the ballot in 40 or 45 by November," said the gray - haired former Senator. He predicted he will finish first, Ford - Reagan second, and Jimmy Carter third. No, I didn't get the order wrong; that was what he said.

He called the Humphrey - Hawkins bill a "fraud" because it will create only one million jobs when eight million are needed. McCarthy favors retaining the CIA, but changing its "methodology"

McCarthy thinks that wholesale cuts in the defense budget is not an issue, but rather what kind of defense systems are supported. "The ABM debate was about that. It was a useless weapons system. We should have told the Russians about it. Then they would have wasted $6.5 billion on it as we did. The Trident (being discussed now) is the same thing. There would be 240 nuclear bombs under the control of one submarine commander. Suppose you get a Captain Queeg?"

On prison reform: "They shouldn't imprison people, except for serious things like auto theft. For that they should give you a car and make you support it." The courts are doing "a fairly good job" on busing and as far as amnesty is concerned, the government should say, "Look, fellas, it's all over, come back."

Some have suggested breaking up big corporations to make goods cheaper, but that's wrong, said McCarthy. "The problem isn't divestiture, it's regulation. If you create six auto makers instead of three, you only drive up the price of cars because it is determined by the least efficient producer. What we want is for Detroit to maker a safer, more efficient auto."

I didn't stay for dinner. The $12.50 donation definitely was too much for a spaghetti dinner and I can take part in only so many lost causes each year Besides, my only other hero of the early 1960's, comedian Mort Sahl, didn't make it up from Los Angeles — his wife is expecting a baby. So I took my souvenir "McCarthy, '76, Independent for President" bumper sticker and left the classroom knowing that one more era in my life is over.

round the town

Just when most of us were prepared to let the "American Revolution Bicentennial" slip by as little more than another chapter in our tv'd history, along comes Justin Kramer.

A trouble maker if I ever saw one. From the mold of Thomas Paine, I'd say. Or maybe even Benedict Arnold.

All Mr. Kramer would have us believe is that the famed Liberty Bell was never cast in England, has nothing to do with the Old Sod.

"Made in the U.S. Of A.," Kramer contends. He has written a book to prove his point.

Now you and I might not much care whether a 220 - year - old bell was cast in England, Philadelphia, or Seattle. After all, the old bell does have a huge crack in it. Gives out little more than a dull "THUNK" even when rapped soundly, which no one dares do, for fear the blessed bell will fall apart completely.

But the English care. More specifically, the Whitechapel Bell Foundry. They lay claim to the original Liberty Bell casting. And they have been turning out duplicates, in this profitable year of the Bicentennial, at $1000 a crack, you'll pardon the expression.

Not only that, but Queen Elizabeth is due to arrive in these United States any day now, to present us with one of the duplicates ... "from Whitechapel, the same foundry that cast the Liberty Bell."

Trouble is, Justin Kramer is also in the bell business. The Made - In - America kind. He'd like folks to look upon the Liberty Bell as a home - town product, and maybe that way encourage some enterprising Yankee to start cranking out his own copies, at $1000 per. Mr. Kramer did not say who he had in mind for this venture.

Regardless, you can see that we're getting ourselves into quite a mess. With international implications. I can just imagine the hassle on July 4, in the offices of our beloved president.

"Mr. President," Shirley Temple Black announces, bubbling, "I have the great honor to present her majesty, Queen Elizabeth, who has come all the way from London just to present you with a duplicate of the Liberty Bell."

"Don't hoak it up, Shirley," the president says, "and just show the lady in."

"Yes sir, but then what do you want me to do with Justin Kramer?"

"What is a 'Justin Kramer', and should I be bothered with these silly details at a time like this?"

"Yes, Mr. President, but it's just that Mr. Kramer is also here to present you with a genuine copy of the Liberty Bell ... only this one was made in Boise," Shirley advises, happily.

"You mean to tell me the Queen of England is standing out there with her version of the original Liberty Bell, and you want me to keep Her Majesty waiting while I fool around with some idiot with his Boise bell? Ms. Temple, when will you ever learn to get your protocol priorities in order?" the president demands, heatedly.

"I'm sorry, Mr. President, I should have known that you would place our good relations with England ahead of any concern for your own re - election," Shirley says, pouting. "I'll send in the Queen right away, and I'll send this Kramer guy packing."

"Yes, ah ... but what was that about my re - election?" the president asks. "What could this phony bell salesman from Boise have to do with my re - election?"

"Nothing sir, not really, " Shirley replies. "It's just that Mr. Kramer has reasearched the history of the Liberty Bell, he has found the enscription Pass and Stow, Philadelphia, 1753" engraved on the bell, and he has proof that John Pass and John Stow operated a Philadelphia foundry in the 1750's, and ..."

"All circumstantial," the president thunders. "How can you allow these Yankee traders to use the White House this way, Ms. Temple, particularly when I didn't even carry Philadelphia in the primaries."

"Yes, Mr. President," Shirley says, sulkingly, "I just can't seem to get the hang of Politics Washington Style. It sure isn't like the simple life I had in Angola, or Hollywood."

"That's all right, " the president says, consolingly, "You just escort the Queen in here with all due respect, and be certain the television people are all set. This will make great prime - time coverage."

"Yes sir," Shirley says, saluting, "and I'll just tell that old Mr. Kramer that his being an uncommitted delegate from the Boise Republican Committee doesn't influence us one bit, no sirree."

"Uncommitted delegate?" the president says. "Do you mean to tell me that this is THE Justin Kramer, the uncommitted delegate from Boise? ... and you've let the poor gentlemen cool his heels all this time in the outer office? Mygawd, Ms. Temple, have you lost your mind? Send the gentleman in immediately."

"Yes Mr. President," Shirley replies, "but what should I do with Her Majesty the Queen of England?"

"Tell her I have a previous engagement," the president asserts. "Does she think the president of these United States is going to jump every time somebody walks in here with a phony bell?"

Opening lead — J ♠

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Hal Sims did not know about the principle of restricted choice. Oswald Jacoby was probably the first player to know about it and Pierre Bellanger the first writer to discuss it.

Today, any expert would rise with his queen of clubs after East followed with the 10 to the second club lead. He would know that East would play the 10 automatically from king-10, but might well have played the jack from jack-10.

When Hal Sims played this hand he went up with the king and wound up making six by developing a squeeze against West after East led back a heart.

Hal did not bother to reply when North said, "Nice guess".

Later on, when East and West weren't around he explained that it wasn't really a guess. He said "East is one of those automatic false-carders. He could not have the jack, because if he did hold that card he would have played it, not the ten."

Ask the Jacobys

An Oregon reader wants to know if we consider it correct to open one notrump with: ♠ K Q 10 ♥ K 10 8 7 ♦ Q J 4 ♣ A 10 8.

The answer is that we would open one notrump vulnerable or not vulnerable, in first, second, third or fourth seat. There are only 15 high-card points, but the spot cards are worth another point to bring the hand to a full 16.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Tickets or pickets?

On Sports

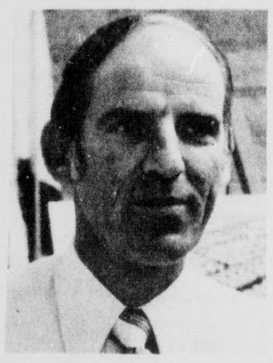
The California Horse Racing Board and the management of the Alameda County Fair are using the county workers strike as an excuse to harass to Pari-Mutuel Employees Guild, a cashier who wished to remain anonymous charged in an interview yesterday.

"It would really tickle management to break the union," he claimed, citing costly lawsuits that seem to crop up whenever the clerks honor another union's picket lines.

A strike by firemen at Bay Meadows in San Mateo and the recent janitors strike against, alternately, the Pacific Racing Association and the Tanforan Racing Association at Golden Gate Fields, both ended in CHRB and horsemen's suits against the PMEG, the source said.

The mutuel clerks have been the target of the suit, he says, because other unionized track workers claim "we didn't cross because the clerks didn't cross."

"I don't know how they can say that," he mused. "We're about the last workers to report each day."



Lee Hall

Although the official announcement made by the stewards and Fair secretary-manager Lee Hall after the stunning last minute cancellation of Wednesday's racing card claimed that, "the persons required to complete a race program are not fulfilling their contractual obligations," the anonymous cashier had no idea what it meant as far as his colleagues were concerned.

Although the official announcement made by the stewards and Fair secretary-manager Lee Hall after the stunning last minute cancellation of Wednesday's racing card claimed that, "the persons required to complete a race program are not fulfilling their contractual obligations," the anonymous cashier had no idea what it meant as far as his colleagues were concerned.

"I don't have the foggiest notion what they're talking about," he said. "We submitted a work list with the names of the clerks who wanted to work at Pleasanton with their prefered assignments and qualifications right after the Vallejo meeting ended.

"We fulfilled our only other obligation up to that point by showing up for work this week — we've demonstrated our willingness to work on three separate occasions."

The clerk was most infuriated by what he claimed were gross inaccuracies in Hall's statements to television reporters Wednesday evening.

"Hall lied on television," he claimed. "He said we left our windows ten minutes before post time. In the first place we were never behind the windows and, in the second place, it would have been too late to pull us at that point had we been back there."

That the clerks did not go to their work stations was verified by the Times' handicapper, who began a catch - as - catch can investigation once it became obvious the flag was not going to go up for the first race.

"This particular labor difference has been characterized by a lack of communication on all fronts: management - managment, labor - labor, labor - management, media - labor, management - media..."

His version of the conflicts that have taken place over the first half of the week lend some credence to his thoughts.

"Monday, management passed the word around to the gatemen not to let the clerks onto the grounds on their licenses — we could've paid our way in of course," he said. "I went through a gate that didn't stop me and got into the grandstand.

"There was garbage all over, standing water — and the tote equipment wasn't set up. I know for a fact it hadn't even been brought down from Vallejo.

"Yet, no one told local 280 (the clerks) that the racing card was off," he concluded.

As further proof of the confusion that has reigned at the Fairgrounds all week, he claims that Hall's Tuesday press release and news conference deluded the clerks' union and the public into thinking that an injunction existed.

Yesterday, Alameda County Superior Court Judge George Phillips specified that only 10 of the 2,500 county workers currently still out on strike were injoined from picketing.

The cashier's explanation of Wednesday's fiasco made clear that he felt there was no way racing could have come off that day.

"The mutuel manager was not under the grandstand and no attempt was made to hand out opening day assignment cards," he said, referring to a traditionally 11:30 a.m. no show-no work deadline for clerks.

He did say that sheer rumor among the clerks had it that fair officials were over their heads in scab labor and went into what he called "a state of shock" when the clerks showed up for work.

"We got the word that management had rounded up a bunch of 'backstretch' types to work as scabs," he said, although Director of Racing Everett Nevin said Wednesday that this would have been impossible and possibly illegal.

In any case, the Times source believes it wouldn't have been worth letting in the "crowd" of less than 1000 that was turned away.

Nowhere to run, nothing to do

Horse owners and trainers who have waited five days for racing to begin at the Alameda County Fairgrounds are bitter over the delay caused by the strike of county workers

They are losing money rapidly and feel they are being made the primary victims of the situation.

"It doesn't make sense. Why can't the smart people representing the union and the smart people respresenting the fair settle this thing and get on with it," asked Paul Nolan, owner of several horses at the Fairgrounds stables and a 45-year thoroughbred racing veteran. "But, all they want to do is argue."

"We're just innocent bystanders," he added. "It's all bull---!"

"We're not innocent bystanders," disagreed a woman who overheard the remark. "We're the losers."

Her remarks were greeted by a chorus of approval from horsemen gathered in the shade of a stable building.

Lee Luce, a former Pleasanton resident, has two horses stabled at Golden Gate fields waiting to start at Pleasanton.

"I'm gearing them for the fifth and seventh," he said, explaining that he has kept his horses in Albany because of the cooler weather and not because of the cloudy situation at Pleasanton.

"They do well there," he said.

Luce did admit he was anxious to race at the Fairgrounds.

"I'd like to race tomorrow if they were running," he added.

Rowena Gilchrist, another long-time Bay Area racing veteran, also has strong feelings on the delays.

"I can't figure out why the unions are doing this," she puzzled. "Right now they're just on strike against the horsemen.

"The carnival and everything else are all going on," she said, sweeping her hand toward the midway perhaps half a mile away. "I don't bother them, so I don't see why they should bother us.

Gilchrist, who pointed out that the 30-day strike at Golden Gate Fields was the start of the horsemen's troubles, currently has two horses at the Fairgrounds stables. She admits the long delay has not helped to keep them in condition.

"All you can do is keep on training them," she explained. "We don't do anything special as far as workouts go."

Gilchrist pointed out that owners and trainers are basically up the creek during a situation such as the one caused by the current strike. Short of going to Southern California, there's no other track to take their horses to.

"Maybe we'll go to Santa Rosa early," she said in reference to the Sonoma County Fair that begins a week from Monday.

"All we can really do is wait, pray and hope."

Reds dump Yanks

In a cross-town contest the Pleasanton National Reds took a 6-2 decision over the Pleasanton American Yankees in District 57 minor division little league action last night in Pleasanton.

John Dusterhaus and Graham Alexander combined for a four-hitter. Guy Dixon belted two hits including a home run for the winners. He also had three RBI's. Andrew Roberts and Ken Dick each smashed two hits for the Reds. Roberts had two RBI's and Dick scored twice.

Paul Hellum scored both runs for the Yankees. Renelle Muellerliele added an RBI single with outs in the bottom of the sixth inning. The Yankees filled the bases with the winning run at the plate but Alexander struck out the last batter.

Steve Hickey of the Yankees was awesome in defeat. He was moved from shortstop to pitcher in the fourth stanza and hurled no-hit ball the rest of the way but it was to no avail.

Pleasanton National will play the winner of last night's Livermore National - Centerville National game at 1 p.m. tomorrow for the championship. The Times regrets we were unable to obtain results of the Livermore National contest.

United blisters nets

TORONTO, Ont. — Karl Kesterke scored four goals as the Ballistic United under-12 side gave Canadian soccer fans an amazing offensive demonstration, defeating Pickering, 13-0, in the opening game of its bracket at the Robbie Tournament here yesterday.

United's second scheduled match of the day, with Chingacousy, was posponed till this morning due to rain and lightning that swept into Canada's second-largest city.

With six minutes gone in the match, Mike Nieto opened the scoring barrage with a two-yard pop. Kesterke began his private binge three minutes later with a three-yard conversion of a loose ball.

The Pleasanton club led, 7-0, at halftime as United's airtight defense kept Pickering from launching a single shot-on-goal during the entire match.

In addition to Kesterke's brilliance, Scott Strommer, Mike Deleray and Jamie Herwatt tallied twice apiece. Nieto, Frankie Duarte and Jim Hutchinson scored the other United goals.

Ed Kinyon, Kevin Ackerman, David Woodword and Donnie Jones played well defensively for the winners.

Valley teams lose in TOC

Livermore National's Lone Star and Pleasanton National's Phillies both dropped into the losers bracket after dropping games last night in the District 57 Senior Little Lague TOC play.

In addition, Dublin Valley fell from the winners bracket with a defeat at the hands of Niles - Centerville, while Pleasanton National droped its second consecutive game in the tournament, eliminating themselves from further competition.

Tom Center had four hits and four RBI's to lead Niles-Centerville past Dublin Valley, 10-1. Villy James hurled a one-hitter, fanning 17 of 21 possible outs.

Dublin's only hit came from Bob Garrigan.

Livermore National lost a game to tough Newark American, 8-2. Brett Gunter, David Criss and Robbie Bowers carried the Lone Star attack. The Livermore lads actually forfeited the game when a player was ejected and the Lone Star bench was empty.

Pleasanton National, meanwhile, ran into the bat and arm of Centerville National's Ken Beecham in dropping a 12-5 decision last night at Newark High School.

Beecham went the distance, giving up six hits while also smacking a two - run homer. He finished the night with two hits and three RBI's.

Pleasanton got help from Robin Dijos, with two hits, and Mitch Pereira, with a single, home run, and three RBI's.

The Pleasanton American Angels were knocked out of further contention by dropping a pitching duel to the South Danville A's, 2-1.

The Angels' Miles Farrant locked up with Brian Orlapp, allowing only a combined eight hits between them, four apiece. Farrant struck out seven, walking two, while Orlapp fanned five and walked none.

Pleasanton scored its lone run in the third on fine hustle from Jim Dalton, while the A's put across their two tallies in the bottom of the sixth with the help of a walk, two stolen bases and singles by Tom Wittenburg and Roger Evans.

Blackhawk work nears start

Lesher News Bureau

MARTINEZ — Nearly three years after Blackhawk Ranch's odyssey through the county bureaucracy began, bulldozers are prepared to carve the Danville foothills into housing lots.

All that remains is staff acceptance of grading plans for the first phase, known as Hidden Oaks subdivision, and commission approval of the final subdivision map. Then development of the first 206 lots for custom - built homes, starting at $100,000, can start.

The final barrier to the first phase of the proposed 4,000-home development east of Danville fell Tuesday night as planners voted unanimously to accept the final subdivision plans.

Minimum lot size of the development will be one-half acre which the Blackhawk Ranch Co will develop%

President Owen Schwaderer said the lots will be sold in the $25,000 to $40,000 price range to custom builders who will resell the completed homes.

Schwaderer said he was unable to specify when he might be back for approval of the final subdivision map. Such action, although mandatory, is usually a formality.

Tuesday's meeting marked a strong contrast to the protracted and sometimes acrimonious debate that has focused on the 4,200-acre project since it was first proposed.

Only two people addressed the issue, neither offering any major opposition.

Legal battles over the conformance of the project to the county general plan and its environmental desirability have been effectively neutralized and density reductions have satisfied many previous opponents.

Schwaderer estimated he could be back with the project's second phase in about two years.

LARPD sets backpacking teens' event

LIVERMORE — A teen backpacking trip sponsored by the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District into the Desolation Valley area has been billed as a good trip for a beginner.

The trip will be over the weekend of July 16, 17 and 18 and will involve a total of 11 hiking miles.

The activity is limited to teens between 13 and 18 years old and registration deadline is Friday, July 9.

The group will leave the District Offices at 71 Trevarno Road at 6:15 p.m. Friday and returns to the same location at 8 p.m. Sunday. A $22 fee covers transportation, all meals, leadership (the trip will be led by naturalist Alice Tetlow) and insurance. A parental permission slip is required.

Registration also is being accepted now for trips planned in August. The Devil's Postpile Monument area is the location for Aug 6 through 9. On Aug. 20 to 22, a trip is planned for the Yosemite area.

For further information, contact the District at 447-7300.

Horse handling sessions open in Livermore

LIVERMORE — Children aged eight to 13 years old who are interested in learning how to groom, saddle, mount and ride a horse still can enroll for sessions at Camp Bronco sponsored by the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District.

The day camp, led by horse specialist Kathy Hansen, provides transportation to and from the Veter's Park site.

Classes an from July 5 to 9; July 12 to 16, and July 19 to 23 still have openings. The cost is $35 for the sessions, held Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m

Registration may be made at the LARPD offices, 71 Trevarno Road. For more information, call 447-7300.

Design review meets today

PLEASANTON — The design review board will meet at 4:30 p.m. today at the Civic Center Conference Room, 200 Bernal Ave., to consider the final phase of the commercial complex to be built on the west side of Santa Rita Road between the El Rancho Motel and the Valley Plaza Shopping Center.

A full Fourth in Pleasanton

Mrs. Gay Grant, member of the Pleasanton Jaycees wives who are sponsoring an ice cream-strawberry social on July 4 at Century House in Pleasanton lets her son, Mike and daughter, Julie have a pre-tasting of the goodies to be served.

A Strawberry Social at Century House is one of several events scheduled for the celebration of the country's 200 birthday on July 4.

Activity of the day will begin with an ecumenical church service at 10 a.m. at Amador High School auditorium. Following the services which are scheduled to end at 11 a.m. churches and fire departments will join in ringing of church bells and sirens in conjunction with nation wide participation.

At 1:30 p.m. the Pleasanton Bicentennial Community Band will present a concert at Century House on Santa Rita with dedication of the time capsule and the Strawberry Social part of the functions scheduled at the historical landmark.

A scroll will be on hand for persons to sign their names. This scroll will then become part of the items to be included in the 103 pound stainless steel time capsule which will be buried at this location for digging up on the celebration of the country's tricentennial.

The scrolls will also be available at Warren Wade's on Main Street, Pleasanton, any day of the week prior to the fourth for any interested person to sign.

Pleasanton Day tickets ready

PLEASANTON — Tickets are now available for Pleasanton Day at the Fair, slated Wednesday, July 7.

Highlight of the day is the evening barbecue. The dinner will include an 8-ounce New York steak, baked potato, salad, roll and coffee. Jim Trimingham will be in charge of the bar with assistance from Chamber members.

In addition to the barbecue, special arrangements have been made by the Chamber of Commerce for reduced prices of admission to the Fairgrounds and (if racing is underway) to a reserved section of the grandstand.

Tickets can be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce, 10 Neal St.

Citizens' voice in safety

PLEASANTON — Citizens can help draft traffic safety guidelines for the city by volunteering for a committee which will be established soon.

Chris Kinzel, a professional traffic engineer with TJKM consultants in Walnut Creek, will direct the study, which has been funded by an $11,900 state grant. The grant is the first of its kind in the state, according to City Traffic Engineer Ken Lamb.

Kinzel, a Pleasanton resident, is a former city traffic engineer for Hayward. He will interview citizens who apply for committee positions and select the group early next month. Anyone interested in serving on the committee should send name, address and phone number to TJKM, 710 S. Broadway, Suite 302, Walnut Creek, Calif., 94596.

Firework injury survey launched

LIVERMORE — In what can be viewed as a footnote to the Bicentennial Celebration, the State Fire Marshal has requested a fireworks injury survey be conducted in the interest of public safety.

The Livermore Fire Department is cooperating in the project and the survey period is from June 25 through July 10.

Forms for recording incidents caused by or involving fireworks have been distributed to local physicians and the emergency room of Valley Memorial Hospital.

No identification of the injured party is necessary — only the type of injury treated and the cause, and the type of fireworks involved.

After the survey is completed, the data on fireworks - caused injuries along with a report on fires caused by the use of fireworks will be forwarded to the office of the State Fire Marshal for analysis on a state-wide basis.

The survey is being conducted by fire deparments throughout California.

So, what's new?

LIVERMORE — Eleven Valley babies arrived recently at Valley Memorial Hospital, just in time for the Bicentennial.

Births included: June 21, John and Elaine Lugar, 9005 Alcosta Blvd., San Ramon, a girl; Benjamin and Barbara Villar, 5837 Idlewild Ave., Livermore, a boy.

June 23, Darel and Linda Schneweis, 3955 Vineyard Ave., Pleasanton, a girl; Allen and Edna Walker, 1776 Kennedy Drive, Milpitas, a boy.

June 25, Timothy and Margaret Malone, 400 East Angela St., Pleasanton, a boy; John and Ruriko Cokenes, 4476 Mohr Ave., Pleasanton, a boy.

June 26, George and Joan Little, 1339 Belfast Court, Livermore, a boy; Laird and Ann Bradely, 1455 Hudson Way, Livermore, a girl.

June 27, David and Thelma Turner, 5636 Idlewild, Livermore, a boy; John and Christine Trowbridge, 6589 Edensburg Lane, Dublin, a girl.

LEGAL NOTICE

CITY OF PLEASANTON
NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION
PROJECT DESIGNATION: UP-76-19

July 2, 1976

In accordance with the provisions of the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures, conditional use permit application UP-76-19 has been determined not to require an EIR but rather a negative declaration.

The project consists of revising the existing conditional use permit governing the operation of the Pleasanton Body Shop, located at 4262 Stanley Boulevard, to allow access from the site to Vervais Avenue. A passageway from Stanley Boulevard through the parking lot serving the automobile repair shops and onto Vervais Avenue is proposed to be created by allowing the construction of a driveway connecting the parking lot to Vervais Avenue. The driveway is proposed to allow egress only. A gate, matching the existing fence in design, would be constructed across the driveway at the existing fence line.

Other than the removal of a minor amount of landscaping for the driveway itself, the only impact would be the traffic added onto Vervais Avenue from the site. Vervais Avenue is a short, below - standard dead - end street with no parking allowed on the northerly side (the side of the subject site). Although both sides of Vervais Avenue are in the Service Commercial District, several residences exist opposite the proposed driveway and could be affected by the increased traffic using the street if the driveway were permitted. Some additional on-site generated noise could reach these residences as well since the existing fence barrier would be opened. It is the finding of the City Manager that the proposed revision of the conditional use permit would not create, to the significant degree required for preparation of an EIR, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

For more information on this case, contact the Department of Housing and Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, California 94566, telephone 846-3202.

Unless any written appeals of this case are received by this department within ten (10) days of the above date or publication of this notice in the Pleasanton Times, whichever is later, this decision will become effective.

CITY OF PLEASANTON
NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION
PROJECT DESIGNATION: UP-76-18, Z-76-117

July 2, 1976

In accordance with the provisions of the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures, conditional use permit application UP-76-18, an application to construct and operate an automotive sales and service facility, has been determined not to require an EIR but rather a negative declaration.

The project consists of the construction of a basically concrete block building to house an automotive sales and service use on a site located just east of 3440 Stanley Boulevard. The building would be approximately 7,200 square feet in size and 20 feet in height. Parking and landscaping would be provided.

The proposed building and use would be adjacent to existing service commercial development on Stanley Boulevard, a major street. The site has been recently filled to raise the site above the 100 year flood level; as a result of the filling, virtually no plant or animal species exist on the site. Access to the property would be provided temporarily through the existing driveway serving the adjacent development, possibly creating somewhat of an awkward merger situation just inside the driveway. Future street layouts for this site and adjoining property could alleviate this situation or exacerbate it, depending on the solution reached. Prior to the addition of future streets, however, the potential traffic circulation problems should not be significant and the use is quite compatible with the existing and planned development of the area. It is the finding of the City Manager that this project would not create, to a significant degree, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

For more information on this case, contact the Department of Housing and Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, California 94566, telephone 846-3202.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION
PROJECT DESIGNATION: Z-76-115

July 2, 1976

In accordance with the provisions of the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures, zoning application Z-76-115 has been determined not to require an EIR but rather a negative declaration.

The project consists of the construction of an addition of 10,800 square feet to an existing industrial building located at 7200 Johnson Industrial Drive. The addition to the side of the existing building would be used for storage.

The existing structure, 156,222 square feet in size, is located in an industrial zone with existing development adjoining the site. The proposed addition would conform to the existing structure in height and design. Little expansion of use of the site would result from the project and there are no known physical impediments to development. It is the finding of the City Manager that this project would not create, to a significant degree, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.
